*My experience with Kapura General Contractors was one of the best relationships you could imagine. Mr. Kapura saved us from losing a major portion of our house to a dishonest insurance company. He helped us from the beginning to the very end of the job. He saved us money in a number of different ways. He fought for us with the insurance company and as they tried to stall, he went ahead with the work anyway. His crews are some of the best I have ever seen, and I have been in the trades for over 30 years. His crews are true craftsmen and professionals. I was really pleased that all of the materials that he had brought to our site were the best. His project manager, or Bill himself, spent many hours working for us and with us. Even his subcontractors were top-notch. And a good indication that he is an honest man is the fact that his crews and subcontractors think very highly of him. I contacted Mr. Kapura at odd hours and whenever I had any questions and I always got speedy answers. Without his help and concern I would not have the beautiful home I have today. I can't thank Bill, Joe, and the crews and subcontractors enough. Without them, myself and my family would still be fighting with the crooked insurance company. Instead I have a safe, comfortable home for my family to live in. In my book, Mr. Kapura and his people are the best at what they do ANYWHERE. Bill, if you happen to come across this review, please accept my heartfelt thanks on behalf of myself and my family. You're the best! -Dan
